

THE SAND CASTLE GIRLS BY CALL OF THE WILD BY CHRIS BOHJALIAN

Read Between the Wines Book Clubs Review:

“Those who participate in a genocide as well as those who merely look away rarely volunteer much in the way of anecdote or observation,” writes Chris Bohjalian of Lincoln in his 15th book, The Sandcastle Girls. “Same with the heroic and righteous. Usually it’s only the survivors who speak — and often they don’t want to talk much about it either.”

“ Easy read that has a good story”

“ Thought provoking novel that flows well“

“ Written from dog perspective“
